This policy provides the minimum rights that each party would have at a hearing with respect to the right to assistance in presenting one's case at a hearing. These minimum rights apply to hearings conducted by the IYSA and its members. A copy of these minimum rights should be delivered to the parties with the notice of hearing.

- A. Each party at a hearing shall have the right to have an individual present at the hearing to assist the party in presenting the party's case. Such individual may, but shall not be required to be, an attorney.
- B. If the member association is represented by another individual at any hearing and the hearing panel allows that individual to speak, question the parties and/or witnesses, or grants that individual any other rights, then it shall afford all other parties, or the individual representing the party, including an attorney, the same rights during the course of the hearing as allowed to the individual representing the member association.
- C. If an attorney is present at a hearing to assist a party in presenting the party's case, it shall be made clear at the commencement of any such hearing that the hearing shall proceed in accordance with the IYSA hearing rules and procedures. All Federal, State, and local Rules of Evidence or Civil Procedure shall not be applicable.
- D. The Hearing Panel Chair shall determine if an individual assisting a party may be allowed to speak on behalf of the party, make requests or ask questions at the hearing.
- E. Regardless whether the IYSA or a member association allows the individual assisting the party the rights to speak, make requests or ask questions, as noted in Paragraph E above, an individual assisting the party in presenting the party's case shall have the right to be physically present in the hearing room, and so as not to interfere with the hearing procedure, it is also recommended that the individual be seated close to the party (either behind or next to the party) so that the party may seek assistance when desired during the course of the hearing.
- F. During the course of the hearing, a party may confer briefly with the individual who is assisting before making a statement or request or prior to responding to a question. The panel conducting the hearing may limit the frequency and duration of the conferences so as not to unduly interfere with the proceeding.
- G. If there is confusion or concern, the party may request a recess to confer with the individual assisting the party. Such a request should be granted unless the number of requests by a party becomes unreasonable or the length of a requested recess is deemed by the hearing panel chair to be unreasonable.
- H. An individual assisting a party may prepare written materials for the party and collect documents for the party. However, the party and not of the individual assisting must submit or present the materials and documents as materials and documents of the party. The party has complete responsibility for those materials and documents and is subject to questioning about them.
- I. Nothing contained in this policy shall prevent the IYSA or member association from allowing greater rights to assistance than those set forth in Paragraphs A-H above.
- J. The rights, either mandatory or permissible under this policy, shall be consistently applied, and the IYSA or member association should not arbitrarily allow or disallow the rights set forth above to those individuals assisting a party in the presentation or defense of the party's case.

Notwithstanding the prior statement, the RMC or the ARMC in the case of absence of the RMC may disclose the Disclosure Statement of the data from the background check if: (i) the person submitting the data authorizes disclosure; or (ii) the person submitting the data challenges the decision by the RMC or alternate to exclude such person from IYSA activities, in which instance the decision is to be appealed to the State Appeals Committee. (The appeals process is contained further in this document.) The confidential information will be released to the Chairperson of the Committee, who is authorized to release it to the members of the committee.

In order to secure a complete list of all persons required to submit such Disclosure Statements, each league, club or organization associated with IYSA shall compile appropriate lists along with other appropriate transmittal documents. Each such league, club or organization is responsible to keep all such current lists and to submit a list when requested by the IYSA Risk Management Coordinator.

The Amateur Sports Act is a federal law enacted by Congress in 1978 naming the US Olympic Committee (USOC) as the coordinating body for activity in the United States directly relating to international Olympic family competition. The USOC recognizes USSF as the national governing body for the sport of soccer in the United States and authorizes USSF to use the grassroots athlete development programs that are implemented by its State Associations as Organization Members.

All Olympic program competitions or events organized by an Olympic member in its selection procedure is protected by the federal law. No one may deny or threaten to deny any amateur athlete the opportunity to compete in the protected competition, censure, or otherwise penalize (1) any such athlete who participates in such competition, or (2) any organization which the athlete represents. The USOC shall, by all lawful means at its disposal, protect the right of an amateur athlete to participate if selected (or to attempt to qualify for selection to participate) as an athlete representing the United States in protected competitions.

Eligibility

Any soccer player is eligible for consideration in the ODP provided that he or she meets the age requirements for the established age group. If an injured player is unable to participate in any of the IYSA ODP Winter Trainings/Tryouts, the player will be released from the IYSA ODP process unless the player is currently listed as a regional or national ODP player.

Reduced or Free ODP Fees

A limited number of free or reduced ODP fees and payment plans are available. Please contact the IYSA office for required submissions and deadline.
